

2019 AABB Annual Meeting Financial Relationship Disclosures

In keeping with Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) standards for commercial support, AABB asks everyone who is in position to control the content of a continuing medical education activity to disclose all relevant financial relationships with commercial interests. ACCME defines a commercial interest as any entity producing, marketing, reselling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. (Providers of clinical services directly to patients are not commercial interests). All financial relationships, regardless of the amount occurring within the previous 12 months are considered. Note that ACCME requires relevant financial relationships of spouses or partners to be included for conflict of interest disclosure purposes. Relevant financial relationships reported by faculty will be disclosed in the online learning platform in the session listing for all continuing education activities. Below are the relevant financial relationships reported by AABB 2018–2019 Annual Meeting Education Committee, and AABB staff members involved in educational planning:
